TRUE SPIRIT OF GIVING

This Christmas or anytime of the year, let your gifting ideas be of products that are both ethically sourced and sustainably produced. Nucleus Underwear and Basics for men and women fits the bill perfectly as it uses organic cotton that's not only kind to consumers, it is also 'friendly' to the farmers. Grown without using pesticides, the cotton is sourced from India's Morarka Organic, which is backed by the Morarka Foundation, a non-profit organisation dedicated to improving the lives of Indian farmers through sustainable and organic agriculture.

Embrace the true spirit of giving with gifts from Nucleus where the products are made from the finest eco-friendly materials and all core components are certified Oeko-Tex Standard 100 for skin-friendly goodness. Nucleus is also a co-brand partner of WWF-Malaysia, and part proceeds from the sales will be channelled to support WWF-Malaysia's conservation work. www.nucleusshop.com
